OGDEN, Feb. 18.—The signing of the Mabey anti-racing bill by Governor William Spry had its effect in this city today when the Ogden Turf exchange, located at Thirty-sixth street and Washington avenue, ceased operation. For more than a year past the race track poolroom has been operated by Roy Shumway for the General News bureau, a company which purchases the service from various racing associations.

a company which purchases the service from various racing associations. When a city ordinance was passed about a year ago prohibiting the selling of race track pools within the city limits, the exchange was removed from Grant avenue to Washington avenue, just outside the southern limits of the city and at the end of the street car line. Other poolrooms have operated in the same locality, but the Shumway exchange was the only one operating when the new bill went into effect.

Ogden Rapid Transit Company to Seven Connection With Wells-Fargo. Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Feb. 18 .- The Ogden Rapid Transit company will sever its connection with the Wells-Fargo Express com-tion with the Wells-Pargo Express company on March 1, according to the announcement of Superintendent P. D. Kline. The local company has been handling express through the Wells-Pargo company between Ogden and Brigham City, but has now decided to inaugurate its own express service.

This department of the interurban business has grown rapidly during the past year, according to the superintendent, and it is planned to give careful attention to this department in the future. As the local company has traffic arrangements with the Salt Lake & Ogden Rallway company regarding express service, it will be possible to handle express direct from Brigham City to Salt Lake, or in the other direction.
